Other stories: • CNBC's Doug Kumai on the new conservative woman talking head and how it reflects on the GOP. • MSNBC's Rachel Maddow on the news media's response to the midterms. • Dems' Katie Couric on Obama's lead in the new NBC series. • New York Times' Bill Carter on the art of the film ad. • More at The Ticket Sign up for the Ticket Wire Your email has been added to our mailing list: LATEST TICKET NEWS Lack of evidence for 2-chloroadenosine as a hypouricemic agent in patients with gout: a randomized, controlled clinical trial. Sodium 2-chloroadenosine-5'-phosphate has recently been suggested as an alternative therapy for gout. We conducted a randomized, controlled clinical trial in which patients with gout were randomized into 2 treatment groups in which allopurinol and sodium 2-chloroadenosine-5'-phosphate were given with different protocols. A total of 107 patients with acute gouty arthritis were recruited. Fifty-seven patients were randomized 1cb139a0ed
